Criminal Libel Is Roosevelt's Threat

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 10.—President Roosevelt, in conference today with members of the Deep Waterways Committee, threatened to bring actions for criminal libel against some critics of the committee.
"Some Americans have been guilty of infamous falsehoods," he said, "in the statements they have made concerning the acquisition by the Government of the construction property in the Panama Canal zone."

Congress Aroused By Roosevelt Comment

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 10.—The House and Senate have expressed resentment against that portion of the President's message relating to the Secret Service Bill as amended last session by Congress.

That portion of the message dealing with the Secret Service, in part, was: "Last year an amendment was incorporated in the measure providing for the Secret Service, which provided that there should be no detail from the Secret Service and no transfer therefrom. It is not too much to say that this amendment has been of benefit only, and could be of benefit only, to the criminal classes. If deliberately introduced for the purpose of diminishing the effectiveness of war against crime, it could not have been better devised to this end. . . . In its present form the restriction operates only to the advantage of the criminal, of the wrongdoer. The chief argument in favor of the provision was that the Congressmen did not themselves wish to be investigated by Secret Service men.
Very little of such investigation has been done in the past; but it is true that the work of the Secret Service agents was partly responsible for the indictment and conviction of a Senator and a Congressman for land frauds in Oregon. I do not believe that it is in the public interest to protect criminals in any branch of the public service, and exactly as we have again and again during the past seven years prosecuted and convicted such criminals who were in the executive branch of the Government, so, in my belief, we should be given ample means to prosecute them if found in the legislative branch. But if this is not considered desirable a special exception could be made in the law prohibiting the use of the Secret Service force in investigating members of the Congress.
It would be far better to do this than to do what actually was done, and strive to prevent, or at least to hamper, effective action against criminals by the executive branch of the Government."

CASTRO HAS LANDED IN FRANCE

BORDEAUX, France, Dec. 10.—President Castro of Venezuela, whose
